VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Four U. S.-made T-28 observation planes, armed with rockets and machine guns, took off Wednesday for the two main fronts of the Laotian civil war.

No responsible officer would say whether the planes, donated as part of the U. S. military support program for Laos, were on combat missions or simply making a show of strength.

Laotian officers said they were sent to the area of Vang Vieng, an important rebel base between Vientiane and the royal capital of Luang Prabang to the north, and to the strategic Plaine des Jarres in north-central Laos.

Unconfirmed reports said they had returned with rockets gone and guns empty from an attack on the Vang Vieng airstrip, re-armed, and took off again.

The planes are the first potential fighter planes in the air force. They can carry two 100-pound bombs each, and can be used for strafing or bombing.

The Laotian government hinted it might turn them against Soviet planes now airlifting arms and ammunition to the leftist rebels of Capt. Kong Le in the Plaine des Jarres area.

PRISONER BEATEN—Bexar County jail prisoner doubles up in pain after being hit hard blow in stomach by officer with cigar in mouth at the jail in San Antonio, Jan. 10. Prisoner was one of about 40 who rioted at the jail. Filibuster Issue Given Up By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted 50-46 Wednesday to refer its fight over filibusters to the Rules Committee.

Thus the Senators tossed aside the hot potato they have been juggling since Congress convened on Jan. 3.

The action was taken on the plea of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who urged that the way be cleared for prompt consideration of the Kennedy administration's program.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois supported Mansfield's motion, but the assistant Republican leader, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, called it "a tragic mistake."

On the vote, 18 Republicans and 32 Democrats, including a solid line of Southern members, backed Mansfield. Against them were 31 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

It was the first Senate roll call vote of the session.

Senators seeking a change in rules that would make it easier to stop filibusters voted the action a setback. They felt they were in a better position strategically at the start of a new session, when rules are being adopted, than they will be later.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N. M., author of one proposal to modify the rules, told the Senate the vote approached that "there will be no amendment unless we do it here and now."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N. Y., predicted the vote "will have major repercussions on policy and politics."

"There will be a rockier road ahead for civil rights and other needed legislation—and for the 'New Frontiers'—because of it," Javits said.

Crowds May Set Farm Show High

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's 45th annual Farm Show barreled toward a possible five-day attendance high as an estimated crowd of 170,000 persons jammed the free agricultural exposition Wednesday.

The crowd, swelled mostly by an outpouring of farm youths in fine weather, boosted the estimated attendance for the first three days of the show to 450,000 persons. And with continued good weather forecast for the balance of the week, officials looked to a possible new record to top the 675,000 attendance in 1955.

The traffic jam—a Farm Show standard—was the week's worst as more than 100 buses carrying Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America joined the caravan of cars heading for the exhibition site. Extra parking space at the city-owned Wildwood Park had to be opened to augment the 40,000-vehicle area already provided for show visitors.

Some 70 Johnson residents received an old custom and came to the show in a special car tied in with a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train.

At the crowds spilled into the building, vendors and concession stands had all they could do to maintain the frantic pace of fulfilling the patrons' needs.

"My arm is sore—I never passed so many hot dogs and submarine sandwiches over the counter in my life," one weary concessionaire said.

Meantime, the mammoth exposition, as is the tradition on the third day, was given over to youth and their accomplishments. Thousands of children, beneficiaries of a school holiday, headed for the state capital to participate in the many events on the day's program.

Blue-jacketed Future Farmers of America and their distaff counterparts, the Future Homemakers, honored fellow members for outstanding work during 1960.

Dr. George W. Hoffman, deputy public instruction superintendent, told some 1,500 delegates to the 32nd annual state FFA convention that they face a tremendous task in view of America's rising population and decreasing farm acreage. The challenge can be met, he added, by research, improvements in soil and water conservation, farm zoning, and retention of "freedom and profit incentives."

Disagree On Medicare; SS Plan Receives Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the White House Conference on Aging had to settle a disagreement Wednesday among delegates over the medical bills of older people.

Chairman Robert W. Kean, former New Jersey Republican congressman, in effect declared those favoring a Social Security health insurance plan the winners.

As a result, it's expected such a plan will become a part of a final report from the conference which will be submitted to President-elect John F. Kennedy and Congress.

Kean made his ruling after two sessions of the conference took opposing stands, one voting that Congress enact a health insurance plan tied to Social Security and the other voting that present legislation was adequate.

The difference resulted from the peculiar structure of the conference, which gives the right to make final recommendations to 20 different sections of delegates.

Each section was given the responsibility of making recommendations on different aspects of the problems of the nation's older generation.

The entire conference of 2,700 delegates will not vote on recommendations.

The vote favoring the Social Security approach was taken by the section on income maintenance—the one which conference officials had formally given the task of making recommendations.

on financing medical care for the elderly. The vote was 170-99.

The opposing view came—by a 165-122 vote—from the section on health and medical care, which was supposed to deal only with means of improving health and medical care.

Kean solved the conflict by directing the chairman of the health and medical care section, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, president of the American Medical Association, to have his group withdraw its formal opposition to social security health insurance.

Craft Smuggling Jews Sinks Near Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR (AP)—A small Spanish-owned vessel believed to be carrying about 40 illegal emigrants bound from Morocco to Israel foundered in heavy seas off the North African Coast Wednesday.

Rescue vessels in the western Mediterranean reported Wednesday night they had picked up three crewmen survivors and bodies of 23 men, women and children.

Moroccan officials said the craft was taking Jews without exit permits from Melilla to Israel via Gibraltar.

They said heavy seas drove it onto hidden reefs off Alhucemas where it sank about 10 miles off the coast.

The craft was identified as a 65-foot motor vessel registered in Honduras and owned by Spaniards. It carried a Spanish crew.

Spanish reports had indicated the mayor of Gibraltar, J.A. Hassan, and his family might have been aboard as cruise passengers but they were located later at his residence. Hassan, who is Jewish, expressed deep regrets over the sinking.

Algeciras coastal radio, in nearby Spain, said reports from rescue vessels said the ship, named the Price, sprang a leak in the bow and sank within minutes in the Bay of Alhucemas. The bay is about 150 miles southeast of this British crown colony at the tip of Spain. The radio said the suddenness of the leak prevented the Price from sending a distress call.

The skipper of the Price, Francisco Morilla, was among the survivors.

The traffic in transporting Jews from North Africa to Israel has increased lately since curbs on Jews have become stricter in Morocco.

In October, leaders of Morocco's Jewish community, which totals some 20,000 persons, sent a list of grievances to the government. Difficulty in obtaining passports was one of their major complaints.

Jews emigrate despite the Moroccan restrictions, but it is risky. In August, 60 were arrested in northern Morocco trying to leave the country illegally. Some were survivors of the Agadir earthquake disaster, in which about 10 per cent of the 12,000 victims were Jews.

Transporting Jewish immigrants to Israel secretly by ship is an old and historic story. Thousands slipped into Palestine that way before the country won its independence in 1948 and the British-imposed ban on immigration was lifted.

Wells tried to leave, but Pledger, carrying two pistols, slammed the door. He fired one bullet. It struck no one. Wells reopened the door and ran down the corridor. Pledger fired three times. One bullet went through Wells' arm and chest.

Then Valentine tried to flee. Pledger fired twice. Two bullets struck Valentine in the back.

Mrs. Pledger tried to escape. Pledger fired three more bullets. They struck his wife, and she fell in the corridor.

Pledger left the building, and drove off. He stopped to phone the General Services Administration, the agency which acts as custodian for all government buildings and, thus, his employer.

Pledger reported the shootings but assured the GSA he had not used his government gun.

Pledger stopped a few blocks away from the Navy Building at the office of Dr. Monroe G. Gregory, 50, of Annapolis, Md. He and Gregory scuffled.

Pledger's gun fired. Gregory was shot three or four times in the upper arm, left hand, and chest. Five slugs struck the wall of the room.

In testimony Wednesday to the Senate Finance Committee, which is considering his nomination, Dillon assured the senators that he regards as sacred the traditional power of Congress over taxes.

Dillon said Congress would have to decide whether to give the president power to fix tax rates to cope with changes in the nation's economy, as recommended to Kennedy by one of his task forces. Dillon said it would be most unusual for Congress to delegate its taxing authority to the executive branch.

The committee was the first to start informal hearings on Kennedy's Cabinet appointments, which can't be formally submitted until after he becomes president. But unless there is an unexpected hitch, all 10 Cabinet selections are generally expected to be ready for Senate confirmation as soon as Kennedy submits their names.

Dillon, one of two Republicans selected by Kennedy for his Cabinet, is a New York investment banker. He served in the outgoing Eisenhower administration as undersecretary of state.

Some Republicans have expressed concern that Dillon, as a Republican, might serve as a "fall guy" in the new Kennedy regime. And some Democrats have privately wondered whether Dillon might try to slow down some of the economic and welfare programs pledged by their party.

The hearing was in a friendly atmosphere with no outspoken opposition.

Other Points
Here are some of the other points Dillon made during the lengthy questioning:

—He believes the drain on U. S. gold as a result of the adverse balance of overseas payments can be solved in a way that would not adversely affect the free world economy. Dillon said he did not want to discuss this publicly until the steps to be taken have been decided upon.

—A temporary ceiling of $25 billion on the national debt is due to expire June 30 and Dillon said it would not be possible to live within the present permanent $25-billion ceiling.

Urges More Thrust In Space Ships

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The United States will probably lose the race to fire a manned space vehicle into orbit around the earth, President-elect John F. Kennedy's space task force reported Wednesday.

The group called for an urgent effort to develop a more powerful thrust for spacecraft—the field in which the Soviet Union has been consistently ahead—and said better leadership of the whole military and civilian space program is imperative.

The task force pictured this country as lagging not only in the prestige-packed competition for the first man in space, but in developing military missiles needed for a secure deterrent force and superonic commercial craft for the tasks still left to winged airplanes.

Kennedy headquarters here made the task force report public without saying what Kennedy thought of it—but announced naming of the task force chairman, Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist Jerome B. Wiesner, to be the incoming President's special assistant for science.

Returns To Family

Kennedy returned to the family home in Palm Beach early Wednesday after flying down from a busy half-day in Washington, which included delivery to him of the space report.

His engagements were a golf game and a call on former President Herbert Hoover, who came to Florida for the dedication of a dike named for him.

Kennedy arranged to see Hoover at the home of Loy Anderson, Palm Beach banker.

His only announced business for the next few days is work on the address he will deliver at his inauguration Jan. 20.

However, appointment of George W. Ball as undersecretary of state for economic affairs, completing the top echelon of the new State Department, was announced. Ball, a Washington lawyer specializing in international practice, is also a close political associate of Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate who will become ambassador to the United Nations in the new administration.

The space task force said national prestige, the department in which the Soviets have scored heavily since they placed the first satellite in orbit, is a prime consideration in space policy.

The official goals of the U. S. Project Mercury are a short manned space flight in April or May and a manned craft orbiting the earth late this year. There has been unofficial word that the program is far behind schedule.

The Soviet Union has made no exact target date public. But Premier Khrushchev said in September they were ready to launch a man into space. There were reports Wednesday of Soviet ships moving into the Pacific, possibly for a missile shot.

The task force said the first manned voyage into space is not necessarily the most important civilian objective in this field, though emphasis on the Mercury program may have made it appear so. And it said that, thanks to excellent instruments developed for space probes, the United States has a number of scientific triumphs to its credit.

Red Front Seen On Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., said Wednesday that a new Communist front had arisen to join the ranks of those crying for abolition of his House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Walter identified the organization as the Chicago Committee to Defend the Bill of Rights.

"This Communist front is merely a warmed-over name change of a former puppet organization of the Communist party in Illinois," Walter said.

Walter said the former organization was the Chicago Committee to Defend Democracy.

Perhaps In Future Dillon Rules Out Any Immediate Cut In Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Douglas Dillon, a Republican picked as secretary of the Treasury by President-elect John F. Kennedy, Wednesday ruled out any immediate plans for a temporary tax cut to spur the sagging economy.

But Dillon left the door open for such a possibility in the future. And he indicated he would like to see income taxes—particularly in the high brackets—slashed permanently if the money lost by that can be replaced by closing tax loopholes.

In testimony Wednesday to the Senate Finance Committee, which is considering his nomination, Dillon assured the senators that he regards as sacred the traditional power of Congress over taxes.

Dillon said Congress would have to decide whether to give the president power to fix tax rates to cope with changes in the nation's economy, as recommended to Kennedy by one of his task forces. Dillon said it would be most unusual for Congress to delegate its taxing authority to the executive branch.

Sen. Clark Introduces Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark D-Pa., Wednesday introduced a bill to authorize additional federal judges for Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

His measure would provide: One additional judge for the Court of Appeals for the 3 circuit (Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware); three additional judges for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania; one additional judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania; and two additional judges for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

In addition, the bill would make a temporary judgeship in the Western District permanent.

Sen. Hugh Scott R-Pa., co-sponsored the measure.
"These additional judges are urgently needed in Pennsylvania," said Clark. "Despite great efforts by the judges now serving in the federal courts there, the backlog of cases and the time from filing of cases until trial remains far too high."

Depot donations in 14 semi-annual collections since 1954 now total 5,573 pints of the life-giving fluid.

Red Cross nurses, Aides, Grey Ladies and canteen workers were out in force to attend the steady stream of volunteers. Among the Staff Aides was Mrs. Lester Kale, wife of the depot commander, Mrs. James Moran, wife of the deputy commander, assisted as a

Another's Concern

When Senate Democrats tried last spring to add $473 million to the appropriation bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, administration leaders resisted for budgetary reasons.

Senate Minority Leader Dirksen warned that he would advise a presidential veto "to stop the business of accepting every project that comes along."

Specifically, the Senate Appropriations Committee recommended increased funds for the National Institutes of Health whose activities have "such meaningful import" for the people's health.

Surgeon General Burney, however, said that although testimony by his aides might show justification for an increased appropriation, he was bound to support the President's smaller request because it was part of a "carefully considered" financial plan.

President Eisenhower now is reported ready to ask a record-smashing $4 billion to run HEW for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

As for medical research funds, the administration is asking for an increase for next year in contrast to his sharply worded requests for cutbacks in previous years.

But this is another year and, in another week, another administration. Mr. Eisenhower's latest budget estimate indicates belated recognition of the Public Health Service's concern about the nation's health and well-being.

As for the present administration's "financial plan" for 1961-62, that of course will have to be Mr. Kennedy's worry.

Who Has Farm Problems?

If you think we have a farm problem in this country and have been lying awake of nights worrying about how the incoming Secretary of Agriculture, poor Orville Freeman, can possibly contrive to deal with it, we invite your attention to agricultural conditions in the Communist world.

In the Soviet Union, Comrade Vladimir Matskevich has been sacked from his important job as Commissar of Agriculture, and exiled to the distant republic of Kazakhstan. If you have a good memory you may recall that it was also to Kazakhstan that Comrade Georgi Malenkov was exiled after Comrade Khrushchev had manipulated him out of power.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that Comrade Vladimir has been fed to the wolves of party-line necessity, in other words that he has been made the scapegoat for the failure of Comrade Khrushchev's grandiose plan for the cultivation of the "virgin lands" of the Asiatic steppes. It is interesting, however, to read in the same newspapers that carried the accounts of Comrade Vladimir's downfall that the communal farm program in Red China has failed even more dismally—on account, it is said, of natural causes.

In short it would appear that the Communist farm problem is precisely the opposite of our own. Our problem, and specifically Mr. Freeman's problem, is an unmarketable surplus of good things to eat. The Communist problem remains one of mass shortage of—as in the case of China—mass starvation. If one must make a choice, there can be little doubt about what the choice of any sane man would be.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Republican Organization

When Sen. Jacob Javits attempted to lessen the influence of Sen. Barry Goldwater in the process of reorganizing the Republican Party after the campaign, Goldwater came out on top because the Republican Party is conservative.

Goldwater's position is not dubious; he makes himself clear on all public questions. Like most conservatives, he is pugnacious.

In an address to the Republican National Committee, Goldwater spoke not so much of the Republican defeat, but of the astonishing victories in this campaign. As one looks at these victories, which gained the Republicans two seats in the Senate and 21 seats in the House, Sen. Goldwater listed these facts:

"Topping the list is the charming lady from Maine, Margaret Chase Smith, whose constituents returned her to office by a whopping 61.6 per cent. Next is the stalwart senator from New Hampshire, Styles Bridges, who received 60.3 per cent. Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky took third place honors with 59.2 per cent, narrowly topping the performance of Nebraska's Carl Curtis who won with 58.5 per cent of the votes cast.

"Next in line come three men who did equally well, with 56.3 per cent records. They were Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey, and the late Keith Thomson of Wyoming, whose tragic, untimely death shortly after the election constitutes the one sad note in this report."

Unfortunately, these figures do not provide a pattern for the Republican Party. Whereas Styles Bridges and Karl Mundt might be called conservatives, Margaret Chase Smith and Clifford Case might be regarded as liberals, and Senators Cooper and Saltonstall as middle-of-the-roads.

Thus, out of these statistics one cannot reach a conclusion, certainly not the conclusion that the Republican Party is prepared to follow the conservatism of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Dr. Richard Van Gelder of the Museum of Natural History in New York is authority for the pronouncement that skunks are just as unpopular with other skunks as they are with human beings. He bases his theory on three demonstrable points:

1. Skunks avoid spattering their distinctive scents on themselves.

2. They never use the weapon against each other.

3. They fire at an enemy only as a last resort.

The skunk's unfailing warning never fails to stop other animals in their tracks. "Even grizzly bears," asserts Dr. Van Gelder, "have been known to beat a precipitate retreat when that tail goes up."

The Pennsylvania Story

Session Length Off The Record

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Whether Pennsylvania is destined to have a long or a short legislative session this year is one of the big questions facing administration and the legislature.

Democratic lieutenant-governor and Senate presiding officer John Morgan Davis has been authorized by State Attorney General Anne X. Alpern to use his vote in breaking a tie in the Senate—but first there has to be a tie.

It won't take much effort for a lone Republican senator or two to step outside and not be present for a vote—to prevent a tie.

Thus exasperating though it may be, it doesn't look as though administration Democrats are much better off this session than they were before when they were strictly in the minority in the Senate and couldn't even produce a tie vote!

It boils down to simply this: for Democrats to make any move in the future in the Senate—they still must gain the support of anti-administration Republicans.

Thus the question of whether the current session—scheduled to re-gather Monday after this week's Farm Show recess—ultimately will wind up as a long or short affair, will be just as moot as it was during the abortive and record-long 1955-56 session, the hip-hipping 1957 session, the until-the-end 1959 session, the waddled into the opening of the 1960 session, or the hop-scotch 1960 session that ended Nov. 14 after fitfully meeting a whopping total of 15 legislative days.

Jowl-shaking Democratic Gov. Lawrence repeatedly in the past has minced no political bones over how he feels about the legislative branch being in session any extended length of time (at least while he is occupying the gubernatorial suite) and on different occasions during the past year has taken occasion to vent his vexed emotions on the subject in no uncertain terms.

On the other hand Republican lawmakers who have played for the extended session in the past along with equally extended recesses have insisted that if the government isn't flinching while Harrisburg burns (what a paper fire that would be!), he has nothing to fear by a mere impeachment-powered legislative branch being in town too.

Well, be this as it may, executive branch administrations just don't like to have legislators hanging around the park benches on Capitol Hill any longer than absolutely necessary—and "necessary" in the minds of some bureaucrats would be "never."

Mr. Lawrence, who has had a Legislature on his back longer than any other Keystone State chief executive touched gingerly on the point when he "welcomed" the 1961 session into being last week, as he allowed:

"It will do no good—indeed, it will do much harm—to stall, or to wait for something to turn up, or to provoke the paralysis of a deadlock."

Suffice it to say that no Republican lawmakers were seen swooning in abject submission as Mr. Lawrence made his utterance and that despite the wishes of administration leaders, the 1961 session is not expected to wind up in any bundle of undue haste!

The Allen-Scott Report

K Awaits Invitation

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — Premier Khrushchev is again trying to work an old come-on gimmick.

The Kremlin is letting it be known he is ready and willing to come to the U.S. for personal talks with President-elect Kennedy.

— "at his convenience" after he takes office.

Being stressed in this circuitous overture is the fact that Prime Minister Macmillan, Chancellor Adenauer and other Western leaders have indicated intention to seek early meetings with the new Democratic President.

Significantly, there has been no intimation so far that Kennedy would be expected to make a return trip to Russia.

President Eisenhower agreed to this when Khrushchev came here in 1959.

Perhaps this condition is being held in abeyance pending developments.

There have been absolutely none up to now, and not likely to be for quite a while.

Kennedy, his Secretary of State-designate Dean Rusk and other foreign affairs lieutenants are carefully maintaining what one of them described as "a keenly interested but strict silence until we have full authority." Meanwhile, the Central Intelligence Agency has ascertained that Khrushchev contemplates going to Africa in the next several months.

Definitely on his itinerary are Guinea and Ghana, whose Prime Ministers Sekou Toure and Kame Nkrumah are markedly pro-Soviet.

During the recent story United Nations deliberations on the strife-torn Congo, they voted consistently with the Communist bloc.

Subsequently, it was reported Russia would establish naval and air bases in Guinea.

Toure "officially" denied this, but the reports persist.

Marshal Malinovsky, Defense Minister, will accompany Khrushchev to Africa.

The backstage intimations of the Soviet ruler's reputed willingness to come here for personal talks have been reaching high-placed Kennedy sources for several weeks.

These soundings have been made both in the U.S. and abroad; in the latter by Russian and satellite diplomats and other spokesmen.

Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov has been particularly active in cultivating contacts with the incoming Administration.

Since early December, the Kremlin envoy has busily sought the ear of everyone he could get to having close Kennedy ties.

Menshikov has been open-handed with luncheon and other invitations.

None of the incoming President's appointees have accepted these proffers.

Both Kennedy and his Secretary of State Dean Rusk have declared themselves opposed to "inadequately prepared summit meetings." It is also authoritatively known they are cold to the idea of a personal meeting with Khrushchev such as he appears to be seeking.

Their position is this should be preceded by arm-length exchanges of views, through special emissaries such as new U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, who is highly regarded by the Soviet.

More Red Knavery — Red China is supplying pro-communist Pathet Lao guerrillas in northern Laos with U.S.-type weapons. These arms are coming from several sources: captured equipment in North Korea and Laos, and phony American arms made in China expressly for the purpose of claiming they are from the U.S. This is an old Communist stratagem, and the Red Chinese are again resorting to it.

Soviet bloc diplomats are spreading the word that Brazil's incoming President Quadros plans to recognize Russia by spring, and the head of the Kremlin mission now in Brazil will be the new Ambassador. . . Turkey and Israel have signed a new trade agreement increasing their mutual imports.

Greece has sold 50 U.S.-made F-84 jet fighters to Yugoslavia. Both countries have received hundreds of millions of dollars of U.S. military and economic aid in the past 10 years. . . United Arab Republic dictator Nasser has sent a so-called "industrial delegation" to Yugoslavia seeking economic aid. The UAR group is slated to visit a number of Yugoslav plants built with U.S. money and technicians.

U.S. British and Iranian naval forces are holding training maneuvers in the Persian Gulf area, and for the first time they are under the command of an Iranian admiral. Previously, they were directed by American or British officers.

More Job Seekers — Pennsylvania's former Gov. George Leader is under consideration for a high post in the Department of Health, Education & Welfare. Leader is a good friend of incoming Secretary Abraham Ribicoff. . . Robert Burkhardt, former administrative assistant of New Jersey's Gov. Robert Meyner, wants to be the new General Services Administrator. He has a lot of competition on that.

Inside You And Yours

Many-Use Drug

By Burton F. Fern, M. D.

What is cortisone? . . . Does it really help so many ailments? How?

Cortisone is one of 30 chemicals manufactured by the outer shell (cortex) of the adrenal gland. The pituitary gland manufactures ACTH — a chemical which whips up adrenal activity.

Ever since the fabulous fertility, doctors have been finding new effects of cortisone and its near relatives. It melts red-hot lymph tissue, like those glands that sometimes swell in your neck.

Cortisone blocks allergic reactions by interfering with antibodies that cause allergies. And so less histamine is produced—the same histamine you try to block with "antihistamines" to trigger the swelling and oozing of hay fever, asthma and eczema.

What Cortisone Does

Cortisone can prevent sterility, open suffocating air passages, prevent scarring inside the heart and ward off blindness—all because it melts inflammation. Inside the heart, the inflammation of rheumatic fever leads of scarring which interferes with normal pumping action. Infection and inflammation in front of the clear area of the pupil can lead to blinding scar tissue.

An infant may suffocate when inflammation swells his infected vocal cords, closing off the air passage. The inflammation of mumps may swell the male sex glands until pressure kills all the cells needed to fertilize the female egg.

Antibiotic Given

But inflammation keeps infection from spreading, and so an antibiotic germ-killer is often prescribed along with cortisone.

Cortisone can also destroy leukemia cells—distant relatives of lymph tissue—controlling the disease for weeks or months.

A medical round robin, alternating cortisone with other chemical controls, keeps leukemia victims comfortable and prolongs their lives. Cortisone also helps control other kinds of cancer, including cancer of lymph tissue and cancer of the breast.

Hair Growth Stimulated

Sometimes masculinizing adrenal chemicals start unwanted hair growing. Small doses of cortisone can slow production of these hair-raising adrenal chemicals by fooling the pituitary gland into cutting back ACTH production.

Frequent fainting spells sometimes stem from a sudden disappearance of sugar from the blood stream. Cortisone can whip up production of new sugar to flood the circulation and prevent that faint feeling.

These are only examples; cortisone can do much more. But still it prevents sterility, hay fever, blindness and excess hair. No other drug can make this statement!

Here I am again and wondering about the Rex Harrison-Tammy Grimes deal, with reports coming from abroad that he's romancing Rachel Roberts, a Welsh actress . . . Ex-champ Barry Ross who was never a canary before is doing just that this week at El Borrocho as a gesture of friendship for Harvey Rosen and he ain't bad either. In fact he's good.

Same crowd that's out to get the House UnAmerican Activities Committee set a six-month target date to get J. Edgar Hoover. (It won't happen!) . . . Why do we dignify and glorify these dangerous characters who do everything in their power to destroy our country and then we turn around and crucify a Joe McCarthy? Let's get rid of the traitors and honor the patriots.

Roxanne Arlen and Phil Baird are an item. Or are they? . . . Steve Cochran and June Janis making the Hollywood friends. Isn't she Liberace's girl friend? . . . Doug McClure and Barbara Luna holding hands at L.A.'s Koolhaun Restaurant . . . In memory.

But from the letters from individuals who apparently are more versed on the subject indicated the "flyer" goes by the moniker of titmouse.

Messages came from Mrs. Gray Carpenter, of Pocono Manor; Mark Hay, Pocono; Barry Tranter, Mt. Bethel; L. S. Row, Cresco, Mrs. Robert Mekeel, East Stroudsburg and Don Robbins, Tannersville. Others also came attesting to the mistake.

Governors Set To Adopt INCODEL

GOVERNORS of two states will meet Feb. 1 in Philadelphia to approve a compact for the joint management of the Delaware River.

This was announced yesterday by John J. Roddy, community relations director of the Water Resources Assn. of the Delaware River Basin, in a talk at the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The governors of New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania and the mayors of Philadelphia and New York have indicated they will accept the compact as recommended in a survey made by Syracuse University with Ford Foundation funds, Roddy said.

They will then call upon the separate state legislatures to approve the compact, after which the federal government will become an active participant in the management and control of the river basin.

Roddy said the Water Resources Assn., of which Charles R. Bensinger of Stroudsburg is president, is only one year old, but its roots go back at least to the flood of 1955 which took 100 lives and caused $100,000,000 in property damage.

The WRA, a privately financed organization, is one of several closely linked groups formed to work for the preservation of the water resources of the river basin.

Their program is tied to a proposal for building 11 major and 47 smaller dams in the river and its tributaries. These dams, he said, would help meet the ever increasing demands for water, prevent major floods, provide vast recreational facilities and, in a few cases, generate electricity.

Roddy explained that the proposed Tocks Island Dam, largest of the 58, would create a 38-mile-long lake from just above Shawnee to Port Jervis, N.Y. It would cost $93,000,000 and is scheduled for completion by 1975, although WRA hopes that Congress will advance the funds in time to finish the project by 1970.

The 12,000-acre surface lake that will be formed, Roddy said, will be twice the size of Lake Wallenpaupack.

He showed a film strip, "Too Much or Too Little," which pointed up the fact that the river's history has been one of either floods or droughts. The 58-dam program would eliminate the vast majority of both types of disaster, the speaker said.

He was introduced by John Pentz Jr., program chairman.

Elwood German presided. Mrs. Vance Britton, of Bushkill, spoke briefly on behalf of the League of Women Voters. She urged support of a constitutional amendment to allow the governor of Pennsylvania, except the incumbent, to succeed himself for a second term in office.

One Injured In Accident

TRACHSVILLE — One person was injured in a two-vehicle accident on Route 200 near the Monroe-Carbon County line at 4:45 p.m. yesterday.

State Police at Lehighton said a car operated by John W. Wolfe, 74, of 109 S. Eighth St., Lehighton, struck the rear of a truck, parked partially on the highway, operated by Samuel O'Donnell, 44, Weatherly RD 2. Troopers said O'Donnell had placed flares on the highway, but Wolfe told them he was blinded by the sun.

Wolfe was treated for a cut nose and chest injuries by a Lehighton physician, but did not require hospitalization. Damage was estimated at $700 to the car and $400 to the truck.

New Bangor Classroom To Be Ready

BANGOR — Walter Emery, chairman of the building committee, reported that the classroom section of the new senior high school being constructed at Five Points by the Bangor Area Joint School Board will be ready for use on Sept. 1, 1961.

Emery stated that other portions of the building now under construction will be completed shortly after the end of November, 1961.

Following Emery's report the committee authorized the purchase of all furniture and equipment necessary for the new school.

In other action the athletic committee informed members of the board that they had notified David Pritchard that he had been renamed head football coach for the 1961-62 year.

The committee also reported to the board that 20 or less basketball games would be played in the 1961-62 season; approval was made to a 10 game varsity football schedule as well as plans for an all sports banquet to be held in the spring.

A list of school trips was approved for various grades of the school district and the request of the Bangor board to use jointure owned buses to transport its pupils to various buildings in the district was referred to the transportation committee.

Members of the Bangor area committee made plans to visit the new East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School on Sunday at the invitation of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School Board.

Four members of the board were named to a teacher-board relation committee to meet jointly with an equal number of teacher representatives to make plans for a new district salary schedule.

In other action the board announced plans to hire a second janitor for the Columbus School, Roseto; to investigate the possibility of installing a new heating system in that school; and to plan for the conversion of the heating system in the Washington Township School from coal fired to oil fired heat.

Boy Struck By Truck Suffers Serious Injuries

JOHN M. BIXLER, 5, was struck by a panel truck driven by Glenn Detrick 22, of 101 Sweetfern Rd., Stroudsburg, yesterday at 11:25 a.m. on N. Eighth Street when, police said, the child ran into the street.

Bixler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bixler, of 802 Main St., Stroudsburg.

He was taken to the Monroe County General Hospital with head injuries.

Detrick told Patrolman Richard Wolbert, investigating the accident, "It happened so quickly I don't really know what happened. I didn't realize the child was in front of the truck until he had been hit."

Upon further investigation police learned that Bixler and Eugene Hippler, 5, a classmate, had been excused from school for the noon lunch period and that the two boys were playing on a pile of snow in front of 213 N. Eighth St., the place of the accident.

Hippler told police that he and Bixler had been playing on the snow pile and were posed to race across the street. Hippler was north of Bixler and saw the truck coming but evidently Bixler did not see the truck. Hippler remained on top of the bank.

Bixler jumped from the bank and started to cross the street when he was hit by the front bumper of the truck.

Detrick, in an attempt to miss the child, swerved to his left.

Ralph Weber, maintenance engineer for Holland Thread Co., received the award in behalf of the firm's employees.

Stock Market Moves Up Despite Cross Currents

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market managed to move a bit higher Wednesday on balance despite cross currents. Trading was heavy.

Once again, profit taking on the 1961 rise combined with reinvestment to produce a very mixed picture. But the market, instead of declining as it usually does when it "consolidates" gains, advanced stubbornly, based on the statistics.

Volume was 4.37 million shares compared with 4.84 million Tuesday, continuing this week's extremely heavy turnover as the list churned forward.

The market was very irregular all day but prices improved in the final hour.

Rails relinquished their pace-making role of recent sessions and were narrowly irregular. American Telephone, up 1½, paced utilities. Industrials were up on average.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.49 to 627.21.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 30 to 226.10 with industrials up .80, rails unchanged and utilities off .10.

Of 127 issues traded, 608 advanced and 449 declined. New highs for 1960-61 totaled 64 and new lows 5.

Among the 15 most active stocks, gainers and losers totaled 7 each. Standard Oil (New Jersey) closed unchanged.

American Stock Exchange prices

continued to advance. Volume was 1.57 million shares compared with 1.61 million Tuesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds edged higher.

Bond volume was $8.57 million par value on the exchange compared with $5.98 Tuesday and was the busiest day since May 18, 1960 when volume was $8.69 million.

Monitor For Firemen

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — Chiefs of all fire departments in Chautauque County were advised Wednesday that the state soon will install equipment to monitor radio-activity in all towns in the county.

Letters from Raymond Hughes, county fire co-ordinator, and Robert Tanner, county civil defense director, told the chiefs that the first of two schools to instruct local residents in reading the equipment, would start next week.

In New York, a spokesman for the State Civil Defense Commission said this was part of a statewide program.

He said the plan is to set up fixed monitoring stations and train policemen and firemen in handling the equipment in every county.

Baby Born To Ex-Residents Now Living In West Africa

By JACK GELINAS
LAGOS, Nigeria—I'm beginning to wonder if the excitement of having a baby ever ends. Barbara's comment to this is that of course it doesn't. I think maybe she's right.

We have named our little six and a half pound bundle of pink, Cynthia, but we call her Cynthle. Her middle name is Abiodun (Abey-odu, the "u" nasalized). In the Yoruba tongue it means "one who is born at Christmastime." Two Ibo friends have already accused us of showing partiality, but came close to giving in and agreeing that Abiodun is a better choice than the name with the same meaning in their language, which is O-mel-jeem-waa.

Many family "firsts" have been brought about by Cynthle's arrival. Until those eleven days ago when she was born, my mother had never before been a grandmother. But she is now. And my brother-in-law suddenly became an uncle for the first time.

On the other side of the family-tree it was much the same, with more "firsts"—for the first time my father-in-law is a grandfather, my sister-in-law, an aunt, and my brother-in-law, an uncle. And this is to say nothing about the aunts and uncles on both sides who have become great aunts and great uncles as the result.

And for me personally there have been more "firsts" since those four days before Christmas than I would have space for here. But I'll list a few: It was my first time to spend the entire day and eve before Christmas in a hospital (and what's more, enjoying it!). And, today is my first start of a New Year as a father. Barbara's list would be similar. And what about Penny, our little terrier? Well—it's the first time she's ever had to go more than two weeks without a bath (but she doesn't seem to mind at all).

Prefer Nursing Home
Most Europeans and Americans here seem to prefer the Northumbria Nursing Home; more often referred to as "Dr. Wood's." The doctor is Scottish. He takes pride in showing his American patients a letter from the New Rochelle (New York) Hospital, offering him a place on the staff. But he makes more money here. His hospital, which had 14 newborn babies on its register the first year it was opened nearly five years ago vs. nearly a hundred for the year just ended, is located on busy Ikorodu Rd. It is a converted house—has eleven beds and is staffed by four British nurses and two doctors. The excellent meals are prepared by a Nigerian.

World's Smallest Motor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The world's smallest motor, life on the moon and wild geese are subjects current for science at work.

A $1,000 SPECK
Prof. Richard P. Feynman said in an article last year that he intended to offer a $1,000 prize to the first man to make a working electric motor measuring only 1-64th inch cubed. But he didn't actually make the offer.

Last month, William McLellan walked into Feynman's California Institute of Technology laboratory with a rotating motor as big as a speck in your eye. It had 13 parts, made in 2½ months of lunch hours with the aid of a microscope, watchmaker's lathe and toothpick. Weight: about 100,000th of an ounce.

Feynman said his conscience bothered him, although he hadn't actually offered the prize, so he sent McLellan a $1,000 check. Now he's worried. The same article mentioned another $1,000 prize—to the first man to reduce a printed book page 1-25,000 of its length and width, yet which would be read with an electron microscope.

MOON LIFE?
Was there once life of some sort on the moon?

There may have been, says J. J. Gilvary of Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co. Life may have existed in the water that Gilvary believes once occupied part of the moon's surface. He points to dark areas in the moon's seas as carbon deposits—relics of life left to die when the moon's water evaporated into space.

GOOSE
Geese apparently stay together for months, and sometimes years, in small groups or flocks — and they have their own way of greeting personal friends, a scientist says.

One bird manages to keep himself to one side of his neighbor. Then he extends his neck obliquely to the ground and gives a characteristic goose call. Moreover, birds who greet each other this way have normally had a previous close relationship, says Dr. Robert B. Klopman of Cambridge University.

Mrs. Ronald S. Heilmann

Carol Faye Zimmerman Weds Ronald Heilmann

Miss Carol Faye Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Zimmerman, of Swiftwater, became the bride of Ronald S. Heilmann of Philadelphia, Saturday, Dec. 24.

Rev. David Blattner performed the two o'clock ceremony in the Paradise Valley Assembly of God Church that had been decorated with white poinsettias and pine.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon over taffeta and nylon net. Seed pearls and rhinestones outlined the modified scoop neckline, with a large butterfly bow in back and three-quarter-length sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of tulle fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with white carnations, white frosted Christmas balls and fern on the white ribbon streamers. At her neck, she wore the groom's wedding gift, a string of matched pearls.

Miss Jean Zimmerman, sister of the bride was the maid of honor, wearing a street length gown of taffeta shading from royal to light blue with white accessories and a white fur headpiece. She carried a cascade of pink carnations arranged with heather, silver Christmas balls and sprigs of pine on net.

Harry Heilmann was his brother's best man.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Doris Blattner sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple were kneeling. She was accompanied by Mrs. Doris Nauman at the piano.

Cashers were Bill Nauman and Floyd Kuhenbecker. The bride's mother chose a dress of tan taffeta with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations while the bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace and beige taffeta sheath with beige and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Antler's Lodge in Swiftwater, where a turkey dinner was served. The bride's table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Motion pictures of the wedding and reception were taken for the couple by Paul Brenn of Swiftwater.

For traveling, the bride wore a black faille sheath dress and white accessories and the wedding corsage of white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Barrett High School, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Barrett High School. He is employed at Burroughs Computer Corp., of Philadelphia.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

As a drama critic, I make an excellent audience, being inclined to lose myself in quite uncritical enjoyment of the play itself. Certainly, Ship'n Shore couldn't have asked for a more appreciative guest at their theatre party to see Lucille Ball in "Wildcat."

All of us seemed to be equally unsophisticated about it all. At the luncheon yesterday, Lucy confessed that we had been her most appreciative audience so far. She is a trouper and really projected in her performance, even with a pulled muscle and a leg bound up in adhesive tape. She belted out both her songs and her personality.

Perhaps real drama critics can ignore the impact of television on theatre audiences, but I'm bound to admit that it is difficult to render a critical judgment of the performance of somebody who has been in your living room so often — sort of like giving an unbiased opinion of the high school junior play in which your own child appears.

The music helped, too. Sammy, that perennial pianist for the Couture Group who never goes out of style no matter how fashions change, kept reminding us all day by playing the tunes as background music for the shows: "Hey Look Me Over"; "Just Give a Little Whistle"; "What Takes My Fancy" and "High Hopes."

The staging was as improbable as the plot and just as much fun. The oil derrick erected on stage and mended with a hairpin was in its own way as much of a show-stopper as the actors.

Also refreshing was the fact that the fashions: Indian, Mexican and Border Town 1912 were, nothing you had to take notes on entertaining, light-hearted, and absorbing enough to take your mind off business; what else could you ask for a musical?

For viewers from the Pocono Mountains, there was an added enjoyment in recognizing in Edith King, the fluttery and funny Countess Emily O'Brien, a native of White Haven, of all places. Once a leading member of Jessie Bonstelle's famed stock companies, Miss King has been seen on television in "The Guardsman," "Cyrano" Studio One, and on the Phil Silvers, Garry Moore, Producer's Showcase and Best of Broadway shows. Well, White Haven!

Money, Music Set Theme For Club's Anniversary

"Money and Music" set the stage for the birthday celebration of the Woman's Club of the Stroudsburg meeting Monday afternoon at the Stroud Community House.

The decorations on the tea table were arranged in accordance with the theme by Mrs. John Glasson. She placed a fountain in the center of the table with three coins in it, and grouped a cherub orchestra around it.

Mrs. Howard A. Rockefeller and Mrs. C. C. Scholia poured from the silver tea service.

Other members of the committee for the 47th anniversary were: Mrs. Arthur Slee, Mrs. C. R. Bensinger, Mrs. C. David Hallock, Mrs. Alford J. Meyers, and Mrs. Bernard Peters.

Following a brief business meeting, Mrs. William A. Hannas turned the program over to chairman Mrs. Robert A. Miller. "Is Four Years Enough?" was the topic for a short talk given by Miss Margaret Mutchler, member of the League of Women Voters. It concerned the bill now pending on allowing a Pennsylvania governor to be in office more than four years.

Mrs. Miller introduced Frederick J. Titus, local manager of Carl M. Loeb, Rhodes and Co. who took up the "money" aspect of the theme. As women own 62 percent of the stocks and bonds, they are increasingly interested in the stock market and its role as an auction and a meeting place for buying and selling, he said.

Members were then taken on a musical tour of the years with the presentation of "Two On An Aisle" by Grace Thompson, marimba soloist and J. Richard Szeremany, pianist.

Beginning with the year 1903, the Herbert selections, "March of the Toys" and "Toyland" were played. Sigmund Romberg's "The Student Prince" was represented.

All the members sang "Happy Birthday" to themselves accompanied by the marimba and piano.

Theme songs of the entertainers of vaudeville, George M. Cohan ("I'm A Yankee Doodle Dandy"), Eddie Cantor, ("Ma, He's Makin' Eyes At Me") and Al Jolson, ("Toot-Toot-Too, Goodbye") brought the program to 1927 and ended the era of light and fantasy.

The music of Jerome Kern's "Showboat" was included, after which there were excerpts from the Lerner-Lowe production "Brigadoon."

As no musical would be complete without George Gershwin, Szeremany played the piano solo, "But Not For Me."

A special arrangement of "Tea For Two" by Vincent Youmans was offered by the duo.

The present was represented by music from Leonard Bernstein's "Westside Story" selections from "Flower Drum Song" and Mary Martin's "Sound of Music."

The final number was appropriate for the occasion, "Everything's Coming Up Roses."

As an encore, Miss Thompson played excerpts from "The Zomba" to display the Latin-American origin of the instrument.

Fitting New Styles Into Budget

By BOBBY WESTBROOK
Daily Record Family Fare Editor

New York — "Lead us not into temptation" is a good motto for the fashion press to keep in mind during National Press Week of the N.Y. Couture Group showings.

It is possible to avoid the sin of coveting the beauty of cut, fabric and color being shown by many designers, simply because stratospheric prices are obviously out of the range of pedestrian salaries; but then, along comes a designer like Anne Klein of Junior Sophisticates whose prices are within editorial budgets — well, almost.

Many of the high style features for Spring and Summer 1961 had been incorporated into her collection: torso contours in shift and overblouse dresses, sleeveless dresses under jackets or matching coats; fashion colors: pink in tweeds, cottons, silks and in combinations, sand beige, hot orange, sharp sky blue; and into the fabrics, lacy wools, imported cottons, Italian knits.

That's when the temptation to overbalance the budget in favor of clothes becomes almost irresistible. That's when fashion editors have to keep reminding themselves that $265 "party pants," Jantzen's priceless white leather bathing suit, and fabric stoles at $50 are a little out of focus, and never really meant for the likes of them.

George Carmel

They also have to keep reminding themselves that fashion rules are made to be broken. George Carmel presented a collection which looked fresh and new, but which, nevertheless, featured many fitted jackets — just when everybody had decided that all jackets were going to be loose. He also presented the only fitted, belted coat shown so far.

The new fashion trends which he did use included: standaway necklines, off-center or double-breasted closings, dropped shoulders and elbow-length sleeves. He does a beautiful job of projecting the three-piece costume. The jacket of his perfectly tailored suit comes off to reveal a blouse so fused that it creates the look of an independently designed one-piece dress.

Jane Derby

Jane Derby also insists on keeping the normal waistline, emphasizing her defiance through the use of cummerbunds of grosgrain or wool braid, sashes of twists of satin, often in strong color contrasts. The sleeveless dresses under her jacket ensembles are often demurely high in front and low in back.

Light sophistication and gentle breeding are Derby trademarks; so it came as a shock when, under a satin pinafore coat of the prevailing pink, she showed "party pants" made of delicately ruffled point d'esprit. They were fuller than pantaloons but just as amusing, but even Miss Derby admitted that very few women have yet been willing to pay $365 for a snicker.

Donald Brooks

Donald Brooks, designer for Townley, may be enjoying his own private snicker. Never reconciled to the passage of the chemise or shift, he can find a certain justification in this season's loose fit, where each wearer must more or less provide the shape herself.

Justification doesn't mean relaxation. The colors of his own design are the most "unquiet" of the week: sunflower orange, alone or in a mad giant sunflower print; equally strong turquoise, and starting combinations in Flying Cranes, or Japanese gardenias or in pipings.

Pipings often emphasize his tentative prophecy of the higher waistline. Long over-blouses, bloused above slim or triple-pleated skirts, create a decided two-piece look.

Edward Abbott

Luis Estevez

For the main part, Luis Estevez seems to have warmed-over his previous collections. However he has added to his jet-age collection a sort of lady-like strip tease where the traveler can remove a slim coat of printed silk or heavy imported cotton and have a suit with a slim, short jacket; then remove the jacket for a bare-topped dress. He also cuts dagger-shaped points into the fabric at the neckline so that even a covered throat reveals some interesting skin landscape.

Marquise

Marquise focuses back interest through slope collars, cowl or draped backs and kerchief backs. Many of the suits feature double box pleats. He, too, follows the current trend toward "queer" color combinations such as a petal pink coat over a raspberry dress; or a pink tweed suit with an orange print lining and blouse.

(New York Couture Group Photos)

EASY GRACE OF STYLES for Spring and Summer is exemplified in Donald Brook's one-piece persimmon silk linen day dress which blouses easily above a slim skirt and gives illusion of two parts. Designed by Townley, the width of bateau neckline is emphasized by cap sleeves.

JET AGE is the theme of Luis Estevez designs, here in a sleeveless sheath in royal blue textured silk divided by a white grosgrain band that plummets from neck to hemline. Back-buttoned overblouse jacket stops just short of waistline above a stiffened white bow.

COSTUME LOOK and variety of jacket lengths available this spring are illustrated in this dress and waistlength bolero costume of beige Italian worsted from the collection of Marquis, designed by Philippe Tournaye. "Slope" collar is tied with figure-eight string to match narrow string belt of short sleeved dress. (John Frederics hat).

LOOSE BUT REVEALING. Subtle silhouette of the overblouse of this covered cocktail dress of black Chantilly lace from Edward Abbott's collection is emphasized by long, flowing sleeves. Sheath beneath is strapless.

AWAY FROM THE NECK, an important feature of Spring fashions is shown here in an imported tweed three-piece suit costume of multi-colored lilac and purple tones from the George Carmel Collection. The thin notched collar is built away from the neck. The short jacket is slightly fitted with a defined, normal waistline. (John Frederics hat; Marvella jewelry).

Wide Open Race Seen In NL

Five Teams To Challenge Pirates In '61 Season

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Seven club managers believe the 1961 National League race will be wide open with at least five clubs challenging the champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

Danny Murtaugh, the good-natured Irishman who piloted the Pirates to a seven-game World Series victory over the New York Yankees, goes along with the consensus.

AFL Club Owners Hold Winter Meet

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—American Football League club owners Thursday began their winter meeting, but no indication that heavy financial losses have dampened enthusiasm for 1961.

There had been predictions from some areas a year ago the AFL would not get through its first season. But the eight club owners will begin two days of discussions with expansion as one of the items on the agenda.

No expansion is indicated this year but such cities as Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, Seattle, Kansas City, Jacksonville, Fla., Memphis, Tenn., and Atlanta, Ga., have figured in speculation on 1962.

There was definite indication, however, the league may authorize immediate transfer of the Los Angeles Chargers to San Diego.

Barron Hilton, owner of the Chargers, and K.S. (Bud) Adams Jr., owner of the Houston Oilers, are among the year's heaviest financial losers despite having fielded division champions.

The Los Angeles losses have

Wall Shoots 5-Under Par In Tune Up

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Art Wall Jr. turned up for the $20,000 San Diego Open golf tournament with a 5-under-par 66 in the $5,000 pro-amateur competition at Mission Valley Country Club Wednesday.

The Pocono Manor, Pa., professional finished one stroke ahead of Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., for the $500 top money as he played the 6,700 yard, par 36-35-71 course in 33-33-66.

Attention will be divided among a number of the nation's high-ranking pros, including Bob Goulby, who won the rich Los Angeles Open last Monday; Arnold Palmer, who had a 70 Wednesday, and Mike Souchak, who a year ago won with a tournament total of 269.

Orioles' Farm Director Quits

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles Wednesday announced the resignation of Farm Director Jim McLaughlin, effective Feb. 1.

McLaughlin, 45, has been connected with major league baseball since 1939, when he became an office assistant to Bill Devitt of the St. Louis Browns. Named farm director of the Browns in 1946, McLaughlin continued in the post when the franchise was transferred here in 1954.

1961 manager, was not represented.

How It Looks
The other managers looked at the 1961 season this way:

Fred Hutchinson, Cincinnati Reds—"Pittsburgh should be the favorite but a lot of clubs could break it wide open, like Milwaukee, St. Louis, Los Angeles, San Francisco—and Cincinnati, with a couple of additions that would strengthen our pitching."

Chuck Dressen, Milwaukee Braves—"Milwaukee will be a contender. The Roy McMillan trade helped and we have fine young pitchers coming up. St. Louis, with fine pitching, should be a top contender."

Picks Pirates
Alvin Dark, San Francisco Giants—"I'll have to lean toward Pittsburgh in a tight race. I'll have to withhold any estimation of my own club's strength until I see the men in camp."

Walter Alston, Los Angeles Dodgers—"St. Louis, with a strong pitching staff and excellent relief, could be a front runner."

Solly Hemus, St. Louis Cardinals—"Pittsburgh should be picked first but the Dodgers, Giants, and Braves will be stronger than last year. Our biggest need is additional bullpen help."

Gene Mauch, Philadelphia Phillies—"It should be a helluva race with the Braves and Giants certain to play much better ball."

George Shaw To Become Viking QB

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—George Shaw, a gifted passer hounded by misfortune throughout a six-year National League career, joined the new Minnesota Vikings Wednesday as their No. 1 quarterback.

The 27-year-old former Oregon star was dealt to the Vikings by the New York Giants in exchange for Minnesota's No. 1 draft selection next fall.

"We had to have a top veteran quarterback to get off the ground and we've got him," said Vikings General Manager Bert Rose. "He's one of the finest passers in the league."

Baltimore Colt General Manager Don Kelleher, in town to try to sign Tom Brown, the University of Minnesota's lineman of the year, concurred.

"You've scored a 10-strike," Kelleher told owners of the fledgling pro team. "This fellow's going to be a terrific asset."

Shaw started out that way with Baltimore six years ago but, after a superb rookie season, ran into a knee injury and a new owner named Johnny Unitas in 1956. He understudied Unitas until 1959, when he joined the Giants as an alternate for Charlie Conerly.

But a bad thumb stopped him in 1960 and Conerly was still the No. 1 quarterback the end of the 1960 season.

"REAL OPERATION"—David Montgomery, president of Racing, Incorporated, is shown discussing the advantages of the Pocono Racing Center to well-known "500" driver Eddie Sachs of Coopersburg, Pa. Sachs is in the Allentown Osteopathic Hospital recuperating from a skin graft on his arm and leg as a result of a racing accident last fall. After the discussion Sachs said, "Wow, that ought to be a real operation . . . one that could do much for major automobile racing in the East. It seems to me that the Poconos is an ideal location for it."

Enthusiasm Is Evident

Pocono Mt. Racing Center Plan Gaining Momentum

PLANS for the recently proposed $4 million automotive racing center in the Pocono Mountains gained momentum this week with the announcement of a growing number of racing leaders and enthusiasts becoming personally involved in the major center.

Racing, Inc. President David Montgomery met Tuesday with leaders of the Madison Avenue Sports Car Driving and Chowder Society in New York explaining the plans and praising the advantages of the Pocono Mountain vacationland area.

Included in the Madison Avenue group were Paul Whitman, noted maestro and racing enthusiast, Frank Blunk, New York Times sports writer, Art Peck, operations director of CBS and John Hearst III, writer for the N. Y. Daily Mirror and many others.

Later that day, Montgomery was guest of NASCAR and Daytona International Speedway at a meeting held for East Coast sportswriters and speedway operators in New York.

Sports car clubs and racing enthusiasts in Pennsylvania have been anxious to become a part of the major racing center and Montgomery said meetings are being set up in New Jersey also.

Scheduled for next Tuesday at the Pilot's Club in Bethlehem is a meeting sponsored by the Warhampton Motor Club, Lehigh Valley Timing Association, Lehigh Valley Austin Healy Club, and members of the Checker Flag Fan Club. More than 100 are expected to attend.

Then on Wednesday, in Philadelphia, drivers and SCCA members will meet with Montgomery. Included in the group will be nationally known sports car drivers Roger Penske, Bob Holdert, Howard Hanna and others. Midget wheeler Len Duncan and Ernie McCoy also are expected to participate. On Thursday, Northeast SCCA members, the Board of Directors of the Giants' Despair Hillclimbers Association and the Northeast Timing Association will meet with the youthful Mount Pocono builder in Wilkes-Barre.

Waymart's Loss Ends 3-Way Tie

WAYMART'S defeat at the hands of a strong Wallenpaupack team Tuesday night 75 to 67, broke a three way tie in the Wayne County League.

Waymart, Southern Wayne and Lake Ariel were all tied for first place until the Wallenpaupack squad pulled the upset.

Bob Bennett was top scorer in the game at Hawley as he dumped in 26 points on 10 field goals. George Odincovs was runnerup with 19 points for the winners.

However, three Wallenpaupack boys broke the double column in pushing across the win. Mike Strong collected 20, George Uguccioni got 15 and Kueling tallied 16.

Southern Wayne turned back Lake Ariel on Tuesday night 49 to 47 to hand the Lakers their first loss of the season.

Erich Schoeppner Agrees To Fight Harold Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — Erich Schoeppner of Germany became the "big man" in the light heavyweight division yesterday — assured of a shot at either Archie Moore's chunk of the split crown or the National Boxing Association's vacant version.

Schoeppner, champion of Europe, agreed Tuesday night to fight Harold Johnson of Philadelphia for the vacant NBA diadem in case he can't get a quick crack at ancient Archie's laurels.

Moore, 45, is negotiating frantically through Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns to close before Friday for a profitable defense against Schoeppner. Otherwise the New York State Athletic Commission may vacate his title at Friday's meeting.

The NBA vacated his title in September for his long delay in defending. He hasn't risked the crown since Aug. 12, 1959, in his second bout with Canadian Yvon Durelle. That was 17 months ago. New York is not a member of the NBA.

On Dec. 22, the New York Commission gave Archie 20 days in which to close for a defense — or else. His deadline would be midnight Thursday. If negotiations for a Schoeppner fight are nearly closed, the deadline probably would be extended to Friday, at least.

Paul Sullivan, chairman of the NBA's championship committee, announced at Pittsburgh Tuesday night that Schoeppner and Johnson of Philadelphia have agreed to fight for the NBA version of the title. No sign pacts. CLEVELAND — Three of the young hurlers on whom will rest a major share of the Cleveland Indians' hopes for improved pitching in 1961 have returned their signed 1961 contracts to the club.

Gary Bell, Bobby Locke and Frank Funk are expected to be key performers this season. Bell and Locke are slated as starters and Funk as a relief specialist.

Gets Golf Trophy. WASHINGTON — Deane Bernman, 1959 British amateur and 1960 U.S. amateur golf champion, will receive the Arch McDonald Memorial Trophy from the Washington Touchdown Club on Saturday. The Minnesota football team also will be honored at the dinner as the outstanding college team of 1959.

1st All Star Bowling Tilt Underway

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — The first All-Star Bowling Tournament in the West since the event's inception in 1941 gets underway Thursday.

Determined to make their first all-star visit to California a memorable one, the sponsoring Bowling Proprietors' Association of America has boosted the total prize fund to a record $98,150, more than $8,000 above last year's kitty in Omaha.

Most experts regard four-time champion Don Carter and defending champion Harry Smith, both of St. Louis as favorites of the 240 men's field.

Denver Univ. Drops Football

DENVER (AP) — The University of Denver announced it is dropping in intercollegiate football immediately. The school has fielded a football team since 1885.

The university, operated by the Methodist Church, is a member of the Skyline Conference. Chancellor Chester M. Alter said in a statement the university trustee decided against continuing "a single intercollegiate athletic activity which produces an annual deficit of about $100,000."

Pirate Prexy Is 'Man Of Year'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John W. Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Wednesday was named Pittsburgh's "man of the year for 1960" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Galbreath was cited for guiding the Pirates for the past 14 years to the world championship last year. He also was honored for his part in giving the city the U. S. Steel-Mellon Building and for slum clearance activities.

NCAA Winds Up Windiest And Longest Session

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The law-makers for college sports ran into a small college rebellion Wednesday at one of the longest and windiest National Collegiate Athletic Association sessions in several years and wound up by passing only about half the controversial legislation that concerned in-season eligibility of players.

After disposing of non-controversial business early—including approval of three new football bowl games and the passing of a couple of restrictive rules about recruiting—the delegates talked themselves into a state of exhaustion and confusion before the session ended.

A key statement of "fundamental policy" barely mustered the necessary two-thirds majority. But a rule limiting college athletes to competition within five calendar years passed by an unexpectedly large vote.

Under this rule, described as a compromise between the four-year limit originally suggested and the need to recognize hardship cases, an athlete must complete his eligibility within five years of the time he first registers at any college. The committee's original idea was to try to end the practice of holding a football player out of competition for one season when he's not needed and thus prolonging his educational process as well as his competitive career.

Two Amendments. Two constitutional amendments that were tabled were a proposal for a national pre-registration program under NCAA control and supervision and a proposal for a national transfer rule. It was mainly the small colleges that objected to these propositions as designed to solve the special problems of the bigger members that engaged in intensive recruiting.

Also passed was legislation to curb high school all-star football and basketball games and to discourage the importation of over-age foreign athletes.

Other activities were: Confirming through the NCAA Council report that the NCAA and the Amateur Athletic Union have broken off their long-standing alliance. The NCAA said it no longer will respect AAU suspensions. The breach may be healed, however, as committees from both organizations are working toward a new alliance.

Three Bowl Games. Approving three new bowl games—the Presidential Trophy at Washington, D.C., the Aviation Bowl at Dayton, Ohio and the Los Angeles Mercy Bowl.

Requiring that when a prospective athlete gets a visit to a college campus at the expense of someone who wouldn't normally pay the way, that person also must accompany him on the visit.

Ruling that colleges may not pay expenses for athletic talent scouts in recruiting and may not claim he is a staff member and entitled to expenses by paying him a regular fee.

The statement of policy, which put into the NCAA constitution that eligibility, financial aid, recruiting and admissions policies are a part of the association's business, passed by a 137-66 margin, mustering only one more vote than was necessary.

As coach of the Minnesota Gophers, Warmath took his team from last place in the Big Ten in 1959 to the Associated Press ranked national championship in 1960. Minnesota won eight of nine games in regular season play but lost 17-7 to Washington in the Rose Bowl.

Woodson coached the Aggies to an undefeated season after they had 21 losing seasons. New Mexico state went undefeated through 11 games last year, including a 20-14 victory over Utah State in the Sun Bowl.

Chicago Bears Sign Mike Ditka

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears Wednesday signed "the best college football player of 1960," All-America end Mike Ditka of the University of Pittsburgh.

Bear owner-coach George Halas announced Ditka's signing at a special news conference, apparently extremely proud that his National Football League for the Panther star's service.

Ditka was No. 1 draft choice of both Bears and Houston. Halas declined to reveal Ditka's salary, but apparently it was lucrative enough to beat out one of the AFL's richest clubs.

NEW GIANT COACH—Al Sherman, an old quarterback himself, assumes passing pose in New York after being named head coach of the New York Giants of the National Football League on Tuesday. Sherman was hired for three years. He has been the team's backfield coach under Jim Lee Howell who has retired from coaching. (AP Wirephoto)

Tennis Star, 19, Faces Suspension

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Examiner says 19-year-old tennis star Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield very likely faces suspension from the United States Lawn Tennis Association for temper displays.

Ralston's case will be taken up "behind closed doors" at the USLTA's Executive Committee meeting in New Orleans on Feb. 3, the newspaper said Wednesday.

Phils Sign Meyer

PHILADELPHIA — Pitcher Jack Meyer, who threatened to quit baseball last May after being fined 15 days' salary for "horse play," has signed his contract with the Philadelphia Phillies for 1961.

Warning Against Laxness In Christian Service Noted

MOUNT POCONO—A warning against laxness in Christian service was sounded here yesterday by a Washington, D.C., church official.

Speaking at devotional period at the annual Publishing Convention of the Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists at High Point Inn, Neal C. Wilson, declared that "in a world enveloped in darkness and uncertainty Christians everywhere should renew their consecration to God in heaven."

Wilson, who is secretary of the Religious Liberty Department of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists, addressed more than 250 delegates attending the four-day convention from seven eastern states and the District of Columbia.

"The Christian life is beset with dangers at every hand," Wilson declared, "but we can overcome any trial with Divine assistance."

He continued, "Men and women everywhere in the world today are turning to the study of the Bible as a source of hope and comfort in a world torn with strife and difficulty."

Wilson praised the Bible salesmen for their part in upping the number of Bibles and Bible-related books in the United States. The delegates are sales representatives of the church's publishing houses and they distribute Bibles, children's books, and other religious books.

Wilson was the main speaker Wednesday during the closing sessions of the conference. Final meetings were held last night and delegates this morning (Thursday) will return to their homes in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

Another speaker Wednesday, W. A. Peterson, of Reading, Pa., outlined the history of the church's publishing department activities. More than twenty-two million dollars worth of books were sold by the church's literature agents during the year 1960, he told delegates.

Other speakers included D. A. Bailey, of Washington, D.C., associate manager of the Book department of the Review and Herald Publishing Association; James B. Dykes, of Nashville, Tenn., editor of "Message" magazine, Southern Publishing Association; W. James Griffin, Washington, D.C., manager of the Home Health Education Service; Stewart Rhoda, Reading, Pa., assistant secretary of the Publishing department of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Adventists; and William Otis, of Pittsburgh, Pa., manager of the Book and Bible

House of western Pennsylvania. In charge of the convention was Bruce M. Wickwire, of Washington, D.C., secretary of the publishing department of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists.

Judge Draws Halt In Glen Alden, E-J

ENDICOTT, N. Y. (AP) — A judge drew a paper halt yesterday to forays by the Glen Alden Corp. into the beleaguered Endicott Johnson Corp., as a group of E-J stockholders painted a picture of business intrigue and alleged pilfering by the head of a charitable foundation.

The temporary injunction the judge signed appeared to mean little in itself immediately since it barred the Glen Alden Corp. from using an E-J stockholders list already said to have been used and since E-J common stock now is selling for more than Glen Alden had offered.

But the court action served to air charges that J. M. Kaplan, head of the J. M. Kaplan Fund, and Albert A. List, president of Glen Alden, both of New York City, had planned a "blitzkrieg" on the E-J share firm.

The stockholders' group fighting in favor of the present family management of E-J, aimed its main fire at Kaplan, former president of the Welch Grape Juice Co. and an E-J director for the last 18 months.

The court order temporarily enjoined Kaplan from meeting with the E-J board.

E-J stock closed at $34 a share Tuesday on the New York Exchange, 25 cents lower than Monday's price but still higher than the $30.50 Glen Alden offered last week in letters to stockholders, in an apparent effort to seize the reins.

The Glen Alden offer followed a deal with Kaplan in which he traded to Glen Alden his 60,000 shares as the largest E-J stockholder.

In charge of the convention was Bruce M. Wickwire, of Washington, D.C., secretary of the publishing department of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists.

G-D-S Future Farmers Select 'Sweetest Girl'

NEWFOUNDLAND — The "sweetest farm girl" in the senior class at Southern Wayne Joint School has been designated by Greene-Dreher Chapter, Future Farmers of America.

She is, according to the vote of the FFA members, Miss Shirley Strada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Strada, of Sterling.

As Chapter Sweetheart, Shirley will reign at the annual Father and Son banquet scheduled for early Spring. This yearly event has been a highlight of the school term for nearly 35 years, and brings back alumni from all parts of the State.

Shirley has had an active high school career at Southern Wayne. She has been a member of the senior band for six years, having moved up after two years in the junior band. She has been a member of the school chorus for four years, and was chosen for both county band and county chorus last year. She has been a majorette for six years, and a cheerleader for three, serving as vice president of the cheerleaders' organization this year, and secretary last year.

Activities

She was a member of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y for two years, and the Senior Tri-Hi-Y for four. She has served on the student council for three years, twice as class representative and once as class president. She was a member of the cast of the junior class play, "No More Homework."

She attends Sterling Methodist Church. Her plans for the Fall of 1961 include entering Lackawanna Junior College.

The FFA is headed by Floyd Thomas, of Madisonville. Carroll Curtis is advisor.

Fire Destroys Old Hotel

ROCHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Fire yesterday destroyed the Old Lincoln Hotel, one-time showplace in this Beaver County community.

The four-story brick structure had been vacant except for a tavern, pool room and a lunch counter.

No one was injured. Firemen battled the blaze for four hours. It apparently was touched off by internal combustion, firemen said.

An adjoining garage was damaged.

RESEARCH

One big reason why your telephone service today is a greater value than ever Since 1940, while the cost of living has more than doubled, the average cost of telephone service has gone up only 31%.

That's an achievement which has saved you and other Pennsylvania Bell telephone customers many millions of dollars.

But the record doesn't stop there. Your telephone service is faster, more accurate, more reliable, more useful . . . and of ever-increasing value to you.

Better service . . . cost held down. How did it happen? One of many important reasons has been our financial ability to support basic research and to use the results of research to produce continuing service improvements and cost savings.

The basic research of the Bell Telephone Laboratories delves into the how and why of things—the vast unknown—wherever there is a clue that might possibly result in something of value to telephone users. And the results are on the record.

Though telephone advancement is the principal purpose of this probing, its by-products have included many discoveries vital to national defense and space exploration—the Bell solar battery and missile guidance systems are good examples. These inventions were put to service in the successful orbiting and operation of Tiro II, the weather satellite.

From Bell research has come the tiny transistor which does practically everything a vacuum tube does and is being used in many applications where such requirements as sturdiness and miniaturization rule out the vacuum tube. One of the first instances in the Bell Telephone System where it was put to practical use was in a pioneer Direct Distance Dialing installation here in Pennsylvania. But the value of the transistor reaches far beyond the telephone business—it has created a whole new electronics industry employing thousands of people.

Other developments like the electronic artificial larynx have been literally priceless to those they serve.

And, of course, Bell Telephone Laboratories has scored breakthrough after breakthrough to improve your telephone service and hold costs down.

This research costs money today and produces value in the future. Its long-term benefits far outweigh its costs. Yet only a financially healthy company—a company with adequate earnings—can afford to invest in basic research.

Further, only financially healthy companies are able to move aggressively to invest in the products of research for the benefit of customers. Perhaps the best recent example in the communications field is Direct Distance Dialing—customer dialing to distant points throughout the nation. Another exciting step is on the way—worldwide communications via satellites with solar-powered transmission equipment. One communications satellite, Echo I, has already been launched and successfully tested.

Behind the scenes many other things are going on all the time to improve service and hold down costs. For example, here in Conshohocken, Pennsylvania, we are using the most advanced computers in our first electronic accounting office. Before it accomplishes a single thing of benefit, we will have invested over a million dollars in it. But we know today that its economies will help hold down your telephone bills of the future.

Only a financially healthy company—a company with adequate earnings—can afford to make substantial investments in applying today's research in order to hold down costs for service in years to come.

Because adequate earnings are so obviously in the public interest, they deserve public encouragement

Dear Abby

Take Mother's Advice

Dear Abby: I am confused about one thing although I am 16 and have been dating quite a while. When your date comes to pick you up, aren't you supposed to be ready? I always am and my mother says that is correct. My girlfriends say if you make your date wait a while (say about 15 or 20 minutes) it will show him you aren't over-anxious and he will appreciate you more. I'd like your opinion.

ON TIME
Dear On Time: Your mother is right. I once knew a young lady who made a habit of keeping her date waiting in the parlor because she wanted him to "appreciate her more." He learned to "appreciate" the company of her younger sister so much that he asked her out and eventually married her.

Dear Abby: My wife came home the other day with a purchase that provoked an argument. She bought several pairs of men's briefs with an elastic panel in front that looks something like a lady's panty girdle. When I protested she said, "Don't be silly, if it's all right for women to hold themselves in that way, why shouldn't men? Most men get pear-shaped after 40 anyway."

Whose side are you on?
PAUNCHY

Dear Paunchy: I'm on the side that holds 'em in in front.
ON TIME
Dear Abby: My problem is so embarrassing I can't talk to anyone about it, so I'm writing you. My husband is 47 and for the past year he has been hoarding the most objectionable pictures of half-dressed and naked women. He carries a billfold full of them and I've found several bunches hidden under the mattress and in his workshop. He promised he'd quit it, but he continues. Now I found he has been trying on my undergarments. I think there is something wrong with his mind. Should I call a doctor? Or will the condition cure itself in time? I am afraid to live with him.

MOTHER OF SIX
Dear Mother: Your husband is sick. Ask your family physician and arrange for the treatment your husband needs. This condition is not uncommon and it doesn't "cure" itself.

Dear Abby: This might help the little lady who signed herself "Troubled Conscience": Six years ago I was troubled because I found out my husband was lying to cover up for his buddy. But this didn't bother me half as much as when I found out his buddy was lying to cover up for him.

Fluoridation Becomes Revived Election Issue

HARRISBURG (AP)—An issue that has been kicking around for 15 years—fluoridation of local water supplies—may be revived in this year's municipal elections. The practice of treating public water supplies with fluorine compounds to prevent tooth decay began to grow around the end of World War II. Under Pennsylvania law, community governments have the option to pass statutes authorizing fluoridation. The question frequently generates strong controversy. Many communities have refused to act without specific approval of voters in a referendum. Even though fluoridation is favored by Pennsylvania public health officials and the state medical and dental associations, voters have solidly rejected the proposal wherever it has been put to a test. Taking a new tack, Warren Borough Council approved Monday night fluoridation of the local water supply even though the proposal had been defeated at the polls two years ago. The council vote was 12-5.

A council spokesman said the Warren council's action was taken in the interest of public health. The Warren Water Co. announced preliminary steps would be taken at once to make effective the council's decision. Even before Warren acted, the governments of 31 communities in the commonwealth already had approved fluoridation. Their water companies or authorities serve another 106 communities. Their total customers number 3,838,356, or around 46 per cent of the state population which is served by public water systems. That percentage compares to a national average of 21 per cent.

"Tooth decay, the most prevalent chronic illness in America, can be reduced two thirds by fluoridation water," said Dr. Charles L. Wilbur, secretary of health. "It is safe, effective, and cheap."

But a number of organizations and individuals oppose the health department position and the fluoridation policies of the state's organized medical and dental practitioners. The types of opposition vary widely. They appear to fall into three main groups: Religious, ideological and medical.

The main religious objection is that members of some sects would, in effect, be forced to accept medical treatment in their water in violation of their beliefs.

The ideological objections center on a contention that fluoridation is a form of "socialized medicine" and mass medication for individuals, whether they want it or not. Medical and dental organizations, which do not agree with the ideological statements, point out that purification of water by chlorine or other treatments is not usually termed "socialized medicine."

The medical objections to fluoridation appear to center on the fact that fluorine—like other members of the halogen element family: bromine, chlorine and iodine—is a poison.

Dentists, physicians and health officials counter that the amount of fluorine put in drinking water is small. They also point out that the fluorine added is in compound form—usually sodium fluoride common table salt is sodium chloride.

Israeli Officer Dismissed

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, in his role as defense minister, ordered dismissal Tuesday of an Israeli army officer suspected in a forgery that started the "Lavon affair" seven years ago.

The unidentified officer, now suspended from active service, is not to be charged with forging or distributing a false document because sufficient evidence is lacking.

Lavon was fired for what the Israeli government said was poor judgment in issuing the order, which led to a still undisclosed "security mishap" in 1954.

Lavon, now secretary general of the Israeli Federation of Labor, fought vigorously to clear his name. An investigating committee eventually did clear him of any blame in a report last month.

Although Lavon maintains the findings of the full Israeli Cabinet prove his complete innocence in the affair, Ben-Gurion wants another complete investigation by a new inquiry committee of judges and lawyers only.

Merchants In 'Politics'

NEW YORK (AP)—A political hue pervaded the annual convention of the National Retail Merchants Association Tuesday.

An address by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., outlined plans for new labor legislation. One more merchandising executive urged the retailers to fight against extension of the minimum wage law to retailing.

More than 5,000 retailers from the United States and foreign countries are attending the four-day meeting, which got underway Monday.

In an address read by Mike Bernstein, Washington attorney, Goldwater called use of union funds for political purposes "one of the most brazen examples of coercion that exists in our society today."

Goldwater said he proposed legislation to end use of union funds in support of specific candidates or programs without the consent of members.

Poland Granted Millions Credit

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia Tuesday granted Poland a $125-million credit to finance new industries under the next five-year plan. Much of the credit will be used to develop Poland's copper resources. Copper is in much demand in Czechoslovakia.

Bell Reaches Agreement

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania Tuesday announced it has reached agreement on a new contract for wage increases of $2 to $2.50 for 9,500 operators and clerical workers.

The company said agreement was reached with Local 194, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

The old contract expired Dec. 14. Bell said the pay hikes will be retroactive to Jan. 8 if the new contract is ratified before Jan. 20.

Bell said the maximum basic weekly wage for an operator in Philadelphia is now about $73.50.

The new contract calls for two yearly wage reopeners and additional life insurance benefits and company-paid emergency medical plan, Bell reported.

Rep. Walter Introduces Industries 'Break' Bill

WASHINGTON — Rep. Francis E. Walter has introduced a bill in Congress which would give American industries a "break" in competing with foreign industries. This would particularly help clothing manufacturers in the Lehigh and Panther Valleys.

The bill, H.R. 184, introduced by Mr. Walter, points out that American industries, especially those in which labor costs constitute a high proportion of the total production cost, have been injured by foreign competition. This, Mr. Walter explains, is because wages are significantly higher in the United States as compared to similar industries in foreign lands where sweatshop labor conditions still prevail. Minimum wages and working conditions are all better in American factories, the veteran Easton congressman explained.

The legislation proposed by Mr. Walter would allow the secretary of labor to recommend to the president such new or additional duties, import quotas, or other remedies "as he shall deem necessary or proper in each case" to help American industry which is being, or is likely to be injured, by imports of goods which are produced in foreign lands under wages and working conditions below the United States. The president would set the date on which his order would become effective under the Walter proposal.

20 Best Perennials Not Easy

By George Abraham

DREAM about perennials: Suppose a man jabbed a gun in your ribs and asked you to name the 20 best perennials. What would you list? Listing the 20 best perennials is no easy matter, because there are so many good ones to choose. Here's my list, which is by no means complete, nor will it agree with your own selections. Aquilegia, Campanula, Carnation, Chrysanthemum, Delphinium, Dianthus (Pink), Dicentra, Gallardia, Gypsophila, Helianthus, Hemerocallis, Heuchera, Hollyhocks, Iberis, Iris, Lythrum, Papaver, Phlox, (Hardy), Pyrethrum, Veronics.

Gardeners who raise the above should have flowers from spring until late summer, because the list is far-reaching. If there are too many perennials for your own backyard, then winnow the list down to seven "backbone" plants such as Peony, Delphinium, Iris, Daylily, Chrysanthemums, Bulbs (Spring flowering and Summer flowering) and Gloriosa daisies.

Your best bet is to leaf through a perennial catalog and read descriptions of various plants, keeping in mind such points as color, blooming date and ultimate height. After you study those features you can plan your own garden of color. Don't let fancy descriptions sweep you off your feet! It's better by far to have a few showy perennials than to raise a lot of short-blooming types which take a lot of care.

Scrap Book
Ever hear of "leaf-burning" of house plants? This is a type of injury that can result from sprays, dry air, dry soil or any other factor which can harm leaves or foliage. Outdoors, burning is often found on evergreens, particularly arbutus and red or white pines, manifested by rusty or brownish foliage. Burning also applies to lawns in hot summers, during a water shortage.

Geraniums Indoors
How are your young geranium plants faring? If you want them to be in ship-shape for Memorial day, keep them in a cool, bright window, and give them ample water. Grown with ample moisture, the plants flower earlier and produce better blooms and foliage than those grown dry throughout their life. Too much shade and high temperatures cause geraniums to grow spindly, and even pinching the leggy branches back may not produce the bushy growth you'd like. Failure to flower is often due to insufficient light, improper feeding, low moisture content and excessive pinching.

Incidentally, ever try raising geraniums from seed? This is an unpredictable venture, but you can have a lot of fun watching the mixed plants grow. It takes 5 months for them to flower from seed. Grow in a one-third mixture of sand, peat and loam. Pour boiling hot water on this to kill the harmful soil organisms, allow to stand for 12 hours, and gently scatter seed over the surface.

Question Box

Question of the week — D.B. of Stroudsburg: "I've replaced our Yews and Arborvitae evergreens (south side of house) three times. These evergreens are next to our driveway and they get plenty of water, so I know it's not due to drying out. I'm wondering if it could be from the exhaust from the oil man's truck? I notice that when he leaves the truck idling, the exhaust pipe practically touches the shrubs. Would that have anything to do with it?"

Yes, fumes from a car exhaust can be harmful to both evergreens and non-evergreens, both in summer and winter. I've seen many instances where exhaust fumes have killed evergreens, when the car has been left to idle nearby. The poisonous fumes are taken in by evergreens and through the bark on non-evergreens in winter.

Damage does not usually show up until spring when you notice a scorched effect similar to wind burning, or desiccation due to hot, windy days in winter, plus low soil moisture. Your best bet is to place a "no-parking" sign near the evergreens, if it's a common practice for motorists or truck men to allow their vehicles to idle near your plants.

V.F. of Gilbert: "We have some bindweed in our flower and vegetable garden. I've tried everything. Is there a weedkiller that will kill this pest and still be safe?"

I wouldn't use any weedkiller in your flower or vegetable garden because of drift injury. There is one safe way of using weedkillers in the flower or vegetable garden. This consists of "spot treatment," applying a few drops in the center of the weed itself. Or you can dip the growing ends of weeds (such as bindweed, or any other deep-rooted perennial) in a solution of weedkiller.

Some gardeners dip a cloth or cotton garden glove into a weedkiller solution and wipe this over the unwanted weeds. In any case, be careful not to get a bit of the mixture on garden plants because they are highly susceptible to it.

Indians' Loss Of Land Stymied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army engineers Tuesday told a Seneca Indians that it will be several years before their reservation will be affected by the Kinzua, Pa., flood control dam now being constructed.

Arthur Lazarus Jr., counsel for the Senecas and in whose office the meeting was held, said the engineers also told the Indians what reservation lands they would eventually require.

Such acquisition of tribal land, Lazarus said, is several years away. However, he said, a few Seneca homes will need to be relocated this year in order to permit road construction.

Also discussed, Lazarus said, was the engineers' estimate of water levels at various times of the year in the reservoir to be formed by the dam. The reservoir will inundate several thousand acres of Seneca land, all in southwestern New York State.

Against Pornographic Literature

MOUNT POCONO—The Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists announced plans for an "every-church-member" campaign against the distribution and sale of pornographic literature.

The publishing department of the church's regional conference is taking the lead in the plan which would curb the flow of morally debasing literature through newsstands, drugstores, supermarkets, and transportation terminals.

Announcement of the plan took place during the annual convention of the Publishing Department of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists at High Point Inn near here. More than 250 delegates from seven eastern states and the District of Columbia are attending the four-day conference.

In today's announcement, Bruce M. Wickwire, of Washington, D. C., director of the publishing department and of the convention being held here, said, "We are asking that church young people, older people, and every person use their influence in talking with other friends and members about stopping the flow of indecent literature."

Mutual Fund Charges

By William A. Doyle
Q. The broker through whom I am buying shares of a mutual fund tells me that I pay a seven per cent charge. Another broker says that mutual funds really have an 11 or 12 per cent charge. Which one is telling the truth?
A. This is a question that is impossible to answer — because you don't name the fund whose shares you are buying and you don't say what method you are using to buy these shares.
The "charges" to a mutual fund shareholder can be broken down into two categories — acquisition costs and annual expenses. Both of these vary quite a bit, depending on which fund's shares you buy and the method you use.
The acquisition costs are the commissions and any other charges you pay when you buy the shares. The broker who sells you the shares gets about two-thirds of the commission — better known as the "load." The rest of the load goes to the underwriter or national distributor of the shares.

The shares of some funds are sold without any load. On some other funds, the load may run up close to nine per cent. The average is 7½ to eight per cent.
If you are buying shares through an accumulation plan, there may be additional acquisition charges. In any case, all acquisition charges are explained in detail in the prospectus covering the offering of the shares. Read the prospectus. You'll find out exactly what it costs you to buy the shares.
The annual expenses of running each fund are explained in the prospectus and are detailed in the annual report sent out by each fund. These also vary. Some funds have annual expenses amounting to close to one per cent of total assets. Others are way below that. The average is about 0.6 to 0.7 per cent.

The smart investor checks all these costs before he buys shares of a mutual fund.

Q. I have been making quarterly investments in National Securities Series, a mutual fund. You have mentioned almost every mutual fund except this one in your column. Have I picked the wrong mutual fund?
A. Easy now. There are about 300 mutual funds in this country. It's impossible to mention them all, all the time. There are several different mutual funds in the National Securities Series — Stock Series, Dividend Series, Growth Stock Series, Income Series, Preferred Stock Series, Balanced Series and Bond Series.

You don't even name the fund in which you are investing. However, they have all been mentioned here from time to time — because they are all good mutual funds.

Q. I own shares of Axa-Houghton Fund B. I have been told by a friend that this stock is not good. Is this a sound mutual fund?
A. Here's another case of a busybody "friend" sticking a nose into a subject about which he knows nothing. Axa-Houghton B is a sound mutual fund with a good record. It has treated its shareholders well in the past and should continue to do so. Tell your friend to go soak his head.

Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Four Firemen Hurt In Blast

TARENTUM, Pa. (AP)—An explosion, apparently touched off by leaking gas, wrecked the front of Louise's garage yesterday in this Allegheny County community. Four firemen were injured, two seriously.

In critical condition at Allegheny Valley General Hospital was 39-year-old Frank V. Goralka, Summit Hose fireman. He suffered a crushed chest, cuts and bruises and a shoulder fracture.

Goralka was blown across the street by the force of the blast. The impact knocked his shoes from his feet and ripped his clothing.

Fire Chief Albert Falise, 48, suffered burns about the face, arms and chest. He was reported in serious condition.

Less seriously hurt were Larry Altman, 47, and John Collins. Altman also is a borough councilman. Firemen said the blast occurred as they were pouring water into the basement to quell a minor blaze.

Automatic Pilot Development

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Sperry Rand Corp., through its Sperry Piedmont Co. subsidiary, has developed a new electric steering engine for use with automatic pilots in yachts, tugs, fishing vessels and other small pleasure and commercial craft. A dial may be set to the desired course and the vessel turns and holds to the selected heading.

U. S. Family Rises In Size

WASHINGTON (AP)—The average American family increased in size by 4 per cent during the past 10 years, the Census Bureau said yesterday.

It said the average family size in March 1960 was 3.68 persons compared with 3.54 persons in 1950. The figures were based on partial surveys. More accurate data from the 1960 census will be available later this year.
